A Publication of Church of the Apostles, A United Church of Christ Congregation

October 2022 Vol. 46 No. 10

Pastor's Corner

I am so excited to "be back"; but the truth is, I never left you. Thank you all for your warm and welcoming comments. I'm glad to be back and ready to make the most of my time here with you all. As we shift from summer to fall during this time, I want to name a slight shift in our church and how some of our ministries are hosting events. Since COVID-19 separated and isolated us from being together, now that we are returning to in-person events, we want to start doing things together. These "Every Apostle" events are for the entire church body. We want to include everyone whether member, friend, or stranger to these events. We want to have fun and laugh and start to share life together again. We want to host these events as a church community with lots of hands and committees involved so we all share ownership in the planning and success of these events. Church of the Apostles is our church so let's come together and share the wonderful gift that is our community with those around us. To make it clear, we are asking that you would invite friends to these events so that they can share and experience the Apostles' community without the pressure of coming to church.

A Message from the Council President

I LOVE Fall! The cooler weather, the weather change, the smells of crispness and the colors of the change of season in reds, oranges and gold ( and yes....pumpkin spice) Somewhere I read that God shows us how beautiful letting go can be, as He directs the seasonal change of the trees and leaves begin to fall. Earlier in the summer, the trees were full of bountiful green leaves and now they are bursting with the warm hues of the fall. But also, remember before there was the fullness of summer, there were the bare branches of winter and then the budding shoots of spring. A season for everything in its time.

For every ending there is a new beginning. Leaves fall ...but the trees still stand. Church of the Apostles is in that season of change. The winds blow and the leaves fall. But the strong trunk and branches are there as a constant. The strong foundation of the church that is Church of the Apostles is still there standing strong. We are just finishing a Health Check Review with Agile Church consultants and we await their assessment report. We are going to be challenged to hear the voice of God speaking through the information that will be shared.

Let's look at the information and the change through the lens of the change of the seasons. We go through all kinds of seasons and those seasons change us. God is telling us to let go and see what I can do...."Behold, I make all things new!" Let me show you what I can teach you. Here is strength in your branches through me. We may have to let go of the old things so we can grow a new perspective for a new season.

Fall blessing,
Donna Carr

October Special Offering

Neighbors in Need (NIN) is a special mission offering of the United Church of Christ that supports ministries of justice and compassion in the United States.

It is based on James 5:4. "Hear the cries of the field workers whom you have cheated of their pay. The wages you held back cry out against you. The cries of the reapers have reached the ears of the Lord Almighty."

One third of this offering supports the Council for American Indian Ministry.

Two thirds is used to provide grants to UCC church organizations as well as supporting a variety of justice initiatives, advocacy efforts and direct service projects. Decisions on projects are based on resolutions that were passed at our General Synod meeting.

Many churches collect the offering on October 2 as part of World Communion Sunday, but contributions may be given through the month of October. You can give your offering in the special offerings envelope or through Realm.

Preschool Begins 2022-23 School Year

Preschool began its 57th year a few weeks ago! Our 140 children and 17 staff members are off to a great start! Our September curriculum theme was "Carnival of Friends." During this unit, teachers focused on building a classroom community through carnival activities, including dramatic play, literacy, art, science, music and movement. Children learned about their peers and made new friends through cooperative games and hands-on activities. The unit will conclude in the beginning of October, with a special carnival day where students will play a variety of traditional games. At the end of this month, our Parent Council will host an Ice Cream Social and we also had a Scholastic Book Fair from September 26th-30th. We are looking forward to a fabulous year of learning and growing through God!

Connecting with Neighbors

On Thursday, September 23rd, Johanna Baker, Earl Cardellino, and Pastor Kuhn attended a Meet & Greet for the recipients of the School Lane Hills magazine, Stroll, at the new Spring House in Homestead Village's Farmstead area to get to know some of our neighbors. We were invited to participate because we advertise in this publication and through these monthly events we are able to get to know people in this neighborhood who live close to our church.

The October Meet & Greet will be a Trunk or Treat event at Lancaster Country Day. Our Education Commission, Preschool staff and church staff are working together to prepare a trunk and participate to promote the church and our preschool.

A MUSICAL NOTE

WITH LARS POTTEIGER

Prayerful Practice (A Practice of Prayer)

I encourage my piano students to practice. Regular practice is necessary to make progress on a musical instrument. Like my students, I don't always want to practice. Daily practice not only helps me to improve on my instrument, it also has the ability to center my heart and mind. When I am open to practice in a spirit of prayer, the process of practice and music-making can become transformative.

Music requires us to be both expressive and receptive. We can express emotions through the music we make. However, music is not only about being expressive. Making good music requires an ability to listen to other musicians and to react to the sounds that are present as we perform. To be truly expressive in performance, we must listen to the other musicians performing as well as the audience. How can we be more expressive and receptive when we pray? How can we be more present with God and others when we worship? Are there new ways for us to encounter God in our day-to-day activities?

The Apostles Academy is hosting a concert featuring vocalist Amanda Russo and pianist Jaime Namminga on November 6th at 3pm in the sanctuary. This collaborative duet has an exciting program planned titled HerStory: A Recital of Art Songs by Women Composers. Please check in future editions of the Crown for more information about Academy concerts coming up later this year. The French writer Victor Hugo stated that "music expresses that which cannot be put into words and that which cannot remain silent". I pray that you may find unique and exciting ways to encounter God in all you do!

Blessings,

Lars

The True Meaning of Halloween

By JONATHAN PAREDES

At the risk of sounding like a holiday scrooge and an old man yelling at kids for walking on my lawn, we have forgotten the real meaning of October 31st. If I could, I would quiz you all on the meaning of this date and if you fail, I'd take away your membership card until you completed confirmation class once again. But, since I don't have the authority and can hear my own self-righteousness in my perspective, I'll do what all theologians do. I'll write about it.

It is the most important date in our Christian tradition, outside the events in the Bible. The significance of this date is lost on most church people with the exception of Christian history nerds. The story for me starts with an insignificant gift from Jack Oliphant as he was preparing to move to Texas. He gave me a coin commemorating the 400th anniversary of the start of the Protestant Reformation. Using my quick math skills, I realized that this coin was over a hundred years old. I said I'm quick, not that I'm good at math. I began to contemplate how something that is so historic and formative to our faith tradition became so forgotten. I blame the kids and their fun Halloween with their fancy costumes and candy. At least this year, we will remember the day that changed church history forever.

It all began with a squirrely monk in Wittenberg, Germany. Martin Luther published The Disputation on the Power of Indulgences. We like to picture Martin Luther defiantly, courageously, and loudly nailing the document to the enormous wooden church door with a giant hammer, waking everyone up in the town, knowing that he was forever changing the church. But in reality, it was a tranquil and academic event. He was putting it as a bulletin for people to read prior to his organizing an academic discussion on his ideas. As we know them today, The 95 Theses, was Luther challenging the Catholic church on its teachings of stewardship, salvation, and the role of the priesthood of the believers. For us, the rest is the complicated UCC history.

So, on the upcoming October 31st, we are celebrating the 505th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation. I have no suggestions on how to celebrate but I do wish you the warmest and best on Reformation Day 2022. For the record, I will not yell at people for not remembering and I will absolutely enjoy the festivities that we have planned for our Parade and Party on October 22nd. However, I did contemplate dressing Milo and Luca as Luther and Tezel but Lucy won't let me shave their heads. . . yet.

This 19th-century painting by Julius Hübner sensationalizes Luther's posting of The 95 Theses Before a crowd.

Their 2-year-old son has been enjoying all the toys, books, and clothing (diapers too).

Thank-You Everyone,
